J. N. Cohenour is building a residence on his eighty acre tract north of the Kingman townsite.

R. J. Hartman, the rustling mining lawyer of Prescott, was registered at the Commercial yesterday.

The K. L. O. R. T. will add thirty-nine volumes of Bancroft's histories to its library next week.

There is an important telegram at the Western Union telegraph office in Kingman for J. A. Stevenson.

By Collins, William O'Day and Finley McClellan will go out Monday to again work the Blackfoot mine.

Frank M. Murphy, president of the S. F., P. & P. railroad, passed east to Prescott on yesterday morning's train.

Charles Wilson, the indefatigable prospector and miner from the southern part of Mohave county, is in Kingman.

W. A. Neal has a badly spained ankle, the result of stepping on a rolling stone near the Golden Key mine a few nights ago.

John O'Brien was in Kingman several days this week. He says the mine upon which he has been at work is looking well.

Edna Steen yesterday deeded to the Cedar Valley Gold and Silver Mining Company the Cricket mine in Cedar district.

W. A. Neal yesterday deeded to J. M. Abbott a one-third interest in the Granite State mine, on Burro Creek. Consideration unknown.

It is rumored that the water in the C. O. D. mine will be pumped out and a large force of men put to work within the next twenty days.

The W. H. Taggart Mercantile Company this week received a carload each of coal, hay and barley; also a large invoice of fine cigars.

J. M. Abbott, of Burro creek, is in the city. Mr. Abbott contemplates a trip to the east to obtain machinery for a reduction plant for his ores.

George Davis of Hackberry and Miss Nettie Imus were married at Hackberry last Thursday. The young couple have the well wishes of a host of friends.

F. W. Theis, Superintendent of the Southwestern Mining and Reduction Co., was in Kingman this week. We understand he is about to let a contract for a large amount of work on his mines at Chloride.

The Kingman Mercantile Company have just received one of the most complete stock of whips ever brought in to the territory. Any one who uses a whip should see their stock and they are sure to make a purchase.

A custom mill at Cerbat will prove a paying venture.

H. P. Ewing, of the Tuckahoe mine, was in Kingman yesterday.

The north drift on the Lookout mine shows up a body of very rich gold ore.

H. S. Van Slyck, general agent of the Atlantic & Pacific railroad, is in Kingman.

Fred Leonard has about completed his contract on the shaft at the Harrington property.

Kelleher, the barber, is always on hand at his shop with tools in perfect order. Give him a trial.

O. T. Porter, of Hackberry, has been appointed a notary public and filed his official bond Thursday morning.

John Kennedy, the lucky White Hills chlorider, was in Kingman the first of the week and took a flying trip to Cerbat.

The Hubbs House truck patch looks as if it had been struck by a cyclone. Boarders at this popular hotel are well fed.

James Stanton and Thomas Stinson are in from the Segregated Blackfoot with a carload of rich gold-silver-copper ore.

The editor of the M. W. got his head into a sack of dough-nuts the other night and now swears that they were only half baked.

The railroad esplanade, east of town, through the picturesque Wallapai Indian village, is becoming very popular to pedestrians.

Edwards and Keller have just finished the interior of J. R. Russell's residence, on 4th street, in oak and it is a handsome piece of work.

Genial By Sherman is getting the mining fever again. Whenever By goes after mineral he generally gets there with both feet.

Gaddis & Perry have built up one of the rooms in the old hotel on the corner of Beale and Fourth streets and will use it for warehouse purposes.

O. T. Porter and two experts have just returned to Hackberry from the Lost Basin country, where they have been looking at gold properties.

Several times we have suggested that a little paint on the buildings on the south side of the track would help the appearance of that part of town.

Two fine horses belonging to J. W. Gerritt and Ed Thompson scooted out of Thompson's corral Wednesday for the hills. $5 reward for their capture.

We have for sale a good mine, located within eight miles of the Colorado river. The ledge will average six feet in width and will mill twelve dollars, free gold.

A winze has been started from the main tunnel level of the Buckeye mine in rich ruby silver ore. The tunnel is now 600 feet under the hill and still in rich silver-gold ore.

The Gross brothers have just made a clean up of their arastras at Cerbat and obtained about a thousand dollars in gold bullion. They have been working ore from the old Gold Bar mine.

J. R. More, one of the big mine owners of Stockton Hill, was in Kingman last Thursday. The mines of Mr. More, at the foot of Stockton Hill, are among the best in the county.

Messrs. Barnes and Loske went down the river in a small boat, from Temple Bar, through the Black Canyon, to the Needles the first of this week. They say the sights through the Canyon is grand in the extreme.

Property owners on Fourth street should plant shade trees as far up as the courthouse plaza, which would make a lasting improvement to Kingman and enhance the value to such a degree that the outlay would be insignificant.

Capt. J. R. White went up to Peach Springs Thursday morning. From there he will go to Terra Haute, Indiana, to attend the annual election of the Graphic Carbonate Mining Company of Kelly, New Mexico. After a visit to his family in Philadelphia he will return to Mohave county to remain all summer.

Last Monday night there was a crash and roar at the railroad coal chute, which on investigation proved to have been caused by a loaded car being pushed over the elevated railway. The brakeman lost his presence of mind and instead of signaling the engineer to let up started to yell like a Comanche Indian, which had little avail amid the din of an engine pushing cars up a steep incline.

John Jamison is in from the mountain.

Frank Cofer, of the Big Sandy, was in Kingman yesterday.

William Roe left for Cedar yesterday with a load of supplies.

Mrs. J. P. Finegan came in from Chloride Sunday and remained in town several days.

Alfred Conkey has given up the business of freighting between Kingman and Mineral Park.

Tom Brown, one of the wealthy stock-owners of the Big Sandy, took out a big supply of provisions yesterday.

Mr. McNeely is now foreman at the Pure Metal copper mine, near the Grand Canyon of the Colorado river.

Frank L. Garner this week shipped from Peach Springs to Kansas two hundred and thirty five head of cows.

Will Carr went down to Cedar last Thursday morning. Mr. Carr is interested in some good mining property in the Cedar country.

John Lynch and Charles Parker went out to the C. O. D. mine Sunday. Chas. Lynch accompanied them to Kingman. The mill was to start up Wednesday.

Last Monday as William J. Roe was driving down town one of his horses reared up and fell over on the ground dead. This is the sixth horse Mr. Roe has lost since his return from Pioche.

Judge Blakely, accompanied by his son Ross, went down to the San Francisco district the fore part of the week. They report many fine looking properties, and also that San Jose parties have bonded all in sight.

The Eagle mill, Weaver district, is running on ore from across the Colorado river. Mr. Brown succeeded in keeping the mill running right along on good gold rock either from his own properties or on custom ore.

The dust storm that found its way up here from the Needles last Sunday was one of the worst of the season. The Needles people may think we want their real estate, but the fact is, we have more of our own than we can conveniently care for.

James W. Haas, of Mineral Park, was in Kingman several days this week. We understand that he offers all his property in and around Mineral Park for sale for the modest sum of $1500. His cattle alone, we are told, is worth more than this amount.

Hon. W. H. Lake will demonstrate the fact that artesian water can be had here for the boring, and will sink a well back of Lake Villa Park in the near future. Should this enterprise be successful the irrigation problem of our two great valleys is unravelled.

The editor and a party of miners will leave in a few days for the placer fields on the Colorado river where they will remain some time prospecting the gravel and sinking some shafts to bedrock. It is thought they will bring back several big bags of gold with them.

The hoist is now in place on the Oro Plata mine and sinking will be commenced next Monday. At a depth of 100 feet connections will be made with the ore chutes in the Oro Plata and Mariposa claims. The main tunnel is still being driven in good grade ore.

Two hundred Mohave Indians came up from Needles to take in the ration issue to the Wallapais Tuesday. Tuesday afternoon they defeated the Wallapais in a game of shinny for a purse of fourteen dollars and since that time have made sad havoc with the Wallapai grub pile.

The Journal-Miner labors under a misapprehension. The editor of the MINER does not see things amiss, when he speaks of Yavapai being jealous of our prosperity. We can refer back to the old stage days when nothing in the way of capital was allowed to enter Mohave county, through Prescott, except that which would not be blackmailed into investing in Yavapai. This is a fact as well-known as the eternal hills. A few years ago Yavapai county was collecting taxes on property in Mohave county, but she has failed to refund one dollar of these illegal taxes to this county, although called on to do so. Yavapai lays claim to everything that is hers, but when claims are set up to property belonging to this county we say, hands off. A few short years ago Mohave was regarded by our sister county of Yavapai as one of her dependencies, but the yoke has been broken and we are forging ahead and before ten years rolls by we will stand in the front ranks of Arizona counties.

Gaddis & Perry's business is increasing daily. New customers from every quarter bear evidence to this fact.

An immense amount of freight is being hauled to Cedar from Hackberry.

The Lake block will be completed and ready for occupancy about the 20th of June.

T. L. Ayres of Cerbat was in Kingman Sunday. Mr. Ayres informs us that he will sink the main shaft on the Eureka another one hundred feet as soon as he works out the upper stopes.

Robert Gray has a group of the richest mines to be found on the coast on Stockton Hill. The properties are so situated that they can be cheaply worked and the ores put in marketable shape. For capital the mines will prove bonanzas.

Decoration Day passed off quietly in Kingman. A few of our citizens who have friends laid away in the graveyard bestrewn the graves with flowers. Flags were hung at half mast on all the buildings except the courthouse.

About 8,000 head of cattle will be shipped from this county by the middle of June. The prices obtained is said to range from eleven to sixteen dollars per head. This will ease up the ranges and at the same time give the stockmen nearly $100,000 in cash.

For the first time since her independence, Mexico will close the current fiscal year with a surplus, and instead of being millions in debt to the national bank, will have more than $100,000 to her credit. And the mystery of it is, how do they do it on the silver basis?—Exchange.

A few days ago Mrs. W. B. Stephens, of the Big Sandy, missed her two-year old baby and on searching the premises found that it had fallen into the well Henry Strawbelle, who was at the ranch at the time, went into the well and took the little one out. It was unconscious, but by hard work the water in its lungs was exhausted and the little one brought back to life. The water in the well was four feet deep and had it remained a moment longer it would have undoubtedly drowned.

Col. Harley Fay, the other day, wrote the Los Angeles Herald that the "hog wash" they were dishing up to the readers of that paper was not what the people were paying for. The Col. does not propose to furnish the munitions of war for Grover's gold bug followers to fight the cause of silver. Our people are foolish to patronize gold bug heels when they can get the same telegraphic news in a silver paper for the same price. The Los Angeles Express arrives here with twelve hours later news than the morning papers. Patronize it.

Thomas Tyrrell came into Kingman Thursday and reported to Sheriff Rosborough that last Sunday, while he was out hunting his hares, he had found a sick man in Wheeler's wash, where it is crossed by the old Cedar trail, and that the man was badly in need of medical aid. George M. Bowers sent a team around the mountain and the sick man was brought into town yesterday morning. We learn from the sick man that his name is Hall and that he is an old timer in Mohave county, having lived in Signal in early days. He had left Hackberry on the 7th of last month bound for Burro creek, but had become sick on the way. Going into Wheeler's wash he had become so ill that it was impossible to move and for seventeen days he had laid there unseen and uncared for. When Mr. Tyrrell found him he was in a filthy condition, being unable to aid himself in any way. He had apparently lived during all this time on a little dry flour. For seven or eight days he had been delirious. His limbs had turned dark blue and were so sore that he was unable to move them. A dugout was constructed and the sick man made as comfortable as possible. After caring for him a couple of days Mr. Tyrrell found he could do nothing for him and came to town for medical aid. Hall is now in the county hospital under care of Dr. Ealy, and the chances are he will be around again in a couple of weeks.

Gaddis & Perry had a bidding contest this morning with their neighbors for an $150 cash order, and, as usual, got away with the pot.

Kingman Sampling Works.

The following is the receipts of ore for the week ending May 31, 1895:

Oro Plata mine, four tons.

Cerbat mine three tons.

Buckeye mine four and one half tons.

Stinson and Stanton, Blackfoot mine, eight tons.

W. A. Neal & Co. one and one half tons ore and one-half tons concentrates.

Kennedy and Company eight tons from Norma mine.

Attention—Miners. To the Ore Producers.

During the absence of my manager, Mr. S. W. Withers, I shall be in control and management of the Kingman Sampling Works. Being sole owner and engaged in no other business to detract from this, will give it my entire and undivided time and attention. Will be ready at all times through the day during the week (except Sundays) to see and make rates and talk business to those having ore for sale. My office is at the Kingman Sampling Works. Office hours, all day.

Am a fixture here in Mohave county and anxious to do business and make money.

WM. H. LAKE.

R. H. Corbett, of San Diego, one of the stockholders in the Temple Bar Mining Company is stopping in Kingman. He informs us that he and one of the McKesson boys washed a cubic foot of gravel from the bedrock of Temple Bar and from the result obtained compute the gravel to go $27 to the cubic yard. Nowhere on the coast can prospects of this kind be obtained without creating the greatest excitement. The company will be washing gravel by July 1st. A dry washer is at work on gravel about a mile from the river and is doing well. It is said that forty machines will be put in within the next forty days.

For a sure deal go to Gaddis & Perry.

Gaddis & Perry give good weights, this they guarantee.
